

CASTLES & FANTASY ENVIRONMENTS

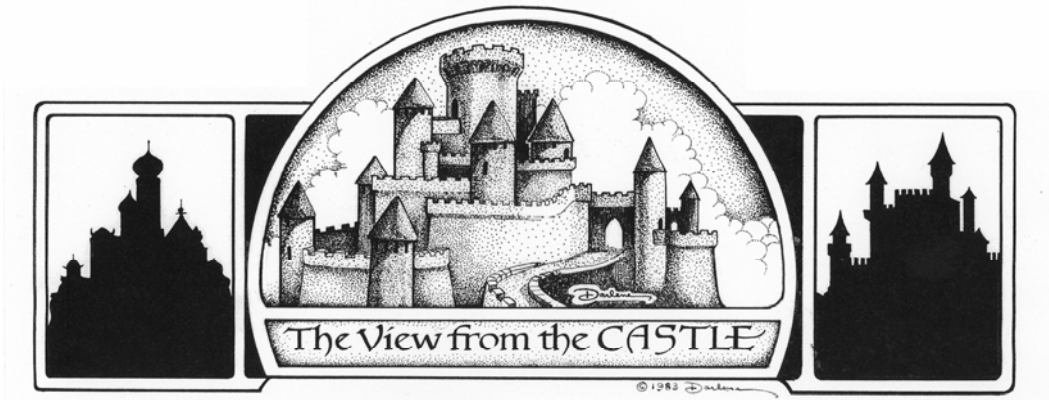

In DARLENE's RPG Art

Gen Con is the only game convention DARLENE exhibited and sold her artwork. Castles are among the designs of mythological animals and other D&D subjects DARLENE created and printed as bookplates and note tablets to sell at Gen Con.

One printed Castle bookplate still exists from this period.

In 1982, Darlene created "The View from The Castle" as one of ten designs comprising the Classical Tablet series she had printed to sell at Gen Con.

The original paste-up for this Classical Tablet is a part of DARLENE's collection.

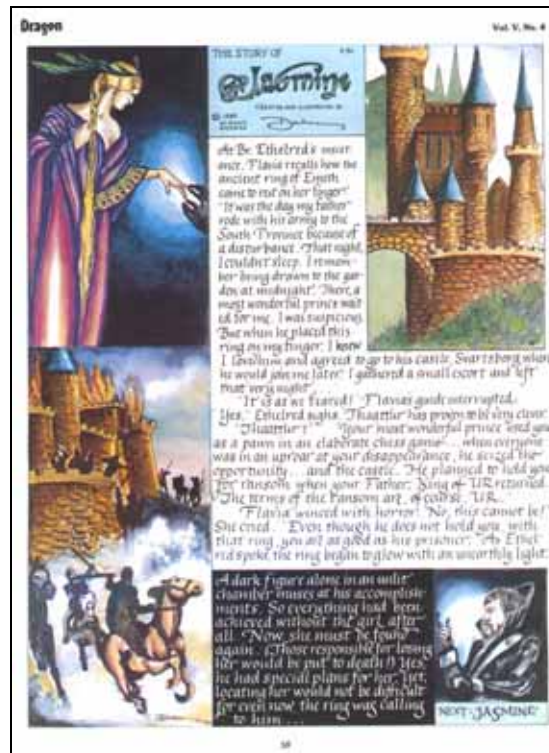

CALLIGRAPHIC COMMISSION

THE STORY OF JASMINE

A castle is pictured in the 7th installment of The Story of Jasmine illustrated fantasy adventure.

JASMINE CARD ART

The Castle cards of all four factions within DARLENE's JASMINE: The Battle for the Mid-Realm™ collector card game (published in 1982 by Jasmine Publications) are shown below.

"THE AMBER SWORD OF WORLD'S END"

A wide range of "fantasy environments" exists within the adventure, "The Amber Sword of World's End," a one-on-one book published by TSR, Inc. in 1986. For this 2-book set, DARLENE produced 266 original brush and ink interiors.

Illustrations in THE DRAGON

A rash youth rushes out of some castle ruins to meet his fate. This full page illustration was published in The Dragon magazine in 1987 (#119).

The original art is a part of DARLENE's portfolio.
